Headline:
Another wet and blustery day for most, especially western areas.

Today:
A wet start for many, with rain becoming confined to western areas through the day. Dry conditions in eastern areas, but strong winds and cloudy throughout, with coastal gales. Feeling mild, especially further east. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
This evening and overnight, rain will continue to affect western areas, but also spread east through the night. Turning widespread by dawn across the country. Windy still, but easing slightly. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Wednesday:
A wet and dreary day for most, as outbreaks of rain will continue throughout the day, largely easing by night. Winds continuing to weaken through the day, feeling mild. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Lighter winds, sunshine, and showers Thursday. Dry and bright Friday and Saturday. Mild by day, but with overnight frost and fog by Friday, with nights becoming colder.
